

REQUEST FOR APPLICATIONS:

Editor-in-Chief, Diabetes Spectrum

THE AMERICAN DIABETES ASSOCIATION IS SEEKING APPLICATIONS FOR THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF POSITION OF DIABETES SPECTRUM[®]

The appointment is for three years, with a possible two-year extension. Applicants are asked to nominate 6–8 Associate Editors to assist with the development and review of content published in the journal. The new Editor-in-Chief and Associate Editors will convene in the summer of 2018 to begin inviting articles and reviewing new submissions for the Winter/February 2019 and later issues.

Diabetes Spectrum is published four times a year and is primarily targeted toward certified diabetes educators and other health care professionals who counsel patients with diabetes. The journal is committed to disseminating information to assist health care professionals with developing strategies to individualize treatment and enhance diabetes self-management education. Diabetes Spectrum presents comprehensive, peer-reviewed original research and review articles on topics in diabetes prevention and medical management, care innovations, professional and patient education, medical nutrition therapy, behavioral science and counseling, pharmacy and therapeutics, and advocacy. The journal's From Research to Practice section provides in-depth explorations of selected diabetes care topics, with a primary focus on translating current research findings into practical treatment strategies.

The American Diabetes Association provides administrative and salary support to the Editor-in-Chief's institution, as well as honoraria to the Editor-in-Chief and Associate Editors. The Association maintains its own Editorial Office and staff to manage the peer-review system and process.

Interested parties should request an application form, which must be completed and returned by February 1, 2018. Curricula vitae of the applicants for Editor-in-Chief and Associate Editors should be included. Please address correspondence to:
